September 15th – Monthly Meeting

“Air Quality in St. Louis and Beyond”

Speaker:	Jay R. Turner, D.Sc., Washington University in St. Louis
Abstract:	This presentation will summarize recent research activities by the Turner Group at Washington University in St. Louis. These projects include: evaluation of a large-scale heating stove replacement program in Ulaanbaatar, Mongolia; emission inventory refinements and hot spot modeling of airborne Pb at general aviation airports; and the Roxana Air Quality Study conducted at the fence line of a large petroleum refinery. Forthcoming work is focusing on the linkages between air pollution and neurological diseases. The presentation will conclude with a brief summary of air quality trends for ozone and fine particulate matter across metropolitan St. Louis.
